A SITTING GOVERNOR & A FORMER ONE

Elliot Spitzer dined at the newly reopened Gallagher's Steakhouse Thursday night with MSNBC's senior political analyst Mark Halperin and other members of the cable-channel correspondent's revolving roster of guests, including Maryland Gov. Martin O'Malley.

Former Gov. Elliot Spitzer chewed the fat with pals at Gallagher's Steakhouse.

"They each had a ribeye steak and a wedge salad," a spy tells us. Maybe Halperin got the dining recommendation from MSNBC host Ed Schultz, who was spotted that night eating at the legendary Manhattan steakhouse for the third evening in a row.
