

GOTHAM

Parties ▼ People ▼ Food & Drink ▼ Home & Real Estate ▼ Style & Beauty ▼ More ▼

Steakhouses for Every Type of New York Dad this Father's Day

By Gabrielle Pedriani | June 6, 2016 | Food & Drink

Nothing caters to a dad's Father's Day desires more than a quality cut of meat, and from filet mignon to T-bone, New York flaunts some of the nation's finest steakhouses. Whether your old man is old-school or modern-minded, this city may not know much about sleep, but it certainly knows its steak.

For the Retro Rebel: Gallagher's Steak House

Initially opened as a speakeasy during the Prohibition, this New York City institution has played host to some of history's most iconic figures. Founded by former Ziegfield girl, Helen Gallagher, the restaurant was Broadway's first steakhouse and served as a hidden hotspot for showgirls, gamblers, and even gangsters to quell their carnivorous appetites. Today, steaks are aged in an on-site meat locker for 21 days and grilled on one-of-a-kind hickory coals. Perhaps most notably, a street-facing front window allows passersby a peek into the magic behind the famous meat—further heightening the restaurant's juxtaposition of elegance and edginess. 228 W. 52nd St., 212-586-5000